Probation Department

Although the primary role of the Canton Municipal Court Probation Department continues to be the probation supervision of offenders and the enforcement of court orders, there are a myriad of other vital functions the Probation Department performs. Probation Officers conduct field contacts with offenders at their homes, places of employment and at counseling and other appointments, in addition to seeing offenders as frequently as weekly in the office. Probation Officers also perform random drug and alcohol testing on offenders, conduct pre-sentence and expungement investigations, supervise curfew compliance and oversee the collection and payment of restitution to crime victims.

However, the role of the Probation Department is not simply enforcement. Probation Officers also serve as advocates for offenders under supervision. Probation Officers assist offenders in accessing services in the community such as counseling services, employment and vocational services, educational services, adequate housing and medical treatment services.

Providing offenders the tools necessary to become productive members of the community is the cornerstone of successful probation supervision and intervention.

All defendants sentenced to Probation Supervision are assessed via the Ohio Risk Assessment System (ORAS) in order to determine the level and frequency of supervision and services they will receive. Based upon the result of the risk/needs assessment, defendants are classified as Low, Moderate, High or Intensive Supervision. The initial level of supervision determines how frequently a defendant is required to report to their Probation Officer, how frequently they will be drug tested and assists in determining other goals for the defendant. As a defendant demonstrates compliance with the conditions of probation and orders of the Court, their level of supervision is revised accordingly.

The Probation Department, Court and community as a whole have a vested interest in assisting offenders in the rehabilitation process in order to prevent them from continuing to be involved in the criminal justice system, and consequently a further expense to the tax-paying public.

The Canton Municipal Probation Department has been awarded the prestigious Clifford Skeen Award presented by the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation & Corrections (ODR&C) an unprecedented three times.

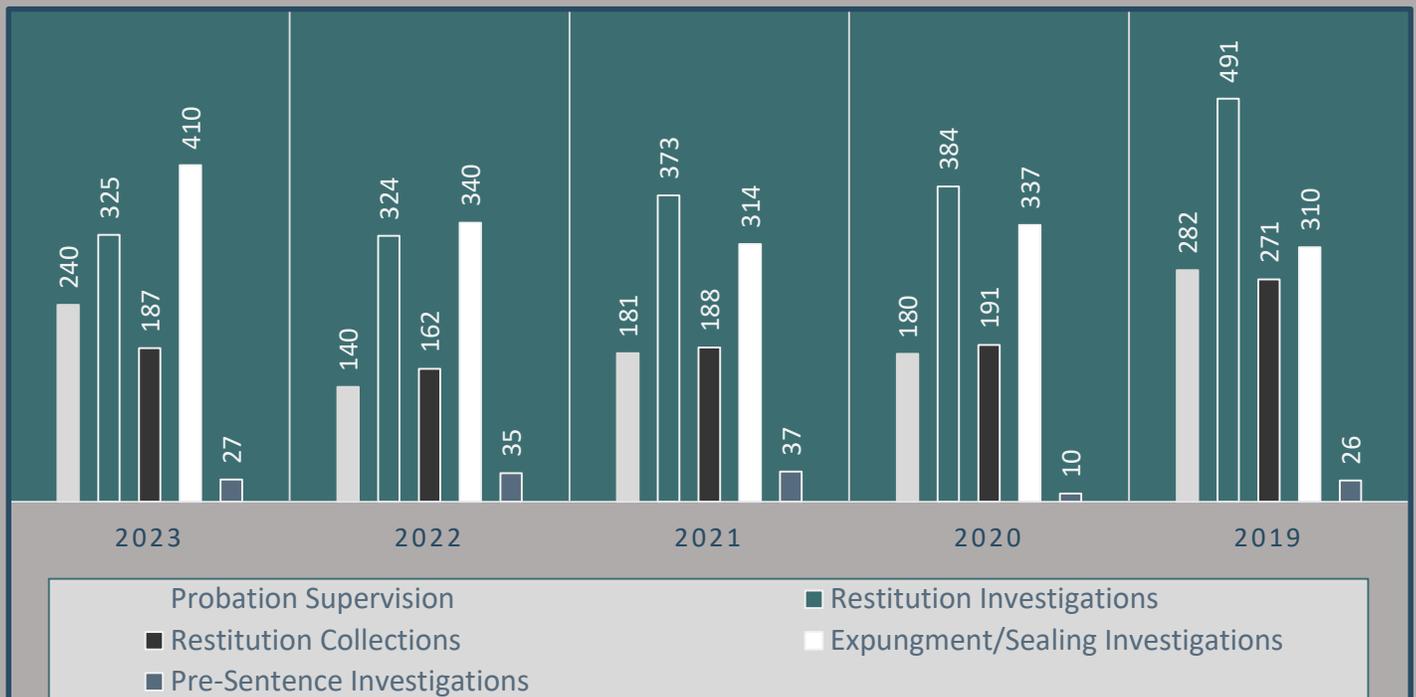

The Clifford Skeen Award is presented annually by ODR&C to recognize the most effective community corrections programs in the State of Ohio. The Canton Municipal Probation Department was awarded the Skeen Award in 2011, 2017 and 2019.

Polaris Project

"A revolving door problem has developed in this country. Jails and prisons have become the de facto mental health system of our day. We must reverse this trend."

Justice Evelyn Lundberg Stratton, Supreme Court of Ohio, Retired

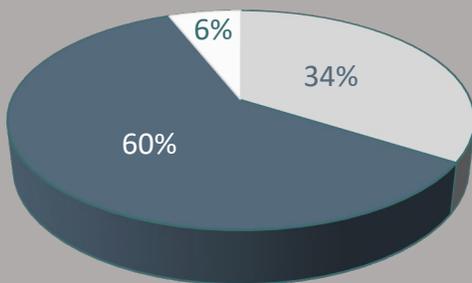

The Polaris Project is a certified Specialized Docket through the Supreme Court of Ohio that provides a comprehensive, coordinated approach to the misdemeanor cases of defendants with severe mental illness and/or co-occurring disorders in order to decrease criminal recidivism, improve public safety and improve the defendant's quality of life by stabilizing the defendant in the least restrictive environment. The Polaris Project is a voluntary program that emphasizes the early identification and intervention of a person whose symptoms of mental illness, history of treatment non-compliance, and/or refusal to accept treatment, results in a recurring pattern of misdemeanor offenses.

Judge Mary A. Falvey has presided over the Polaris Project docket since 2009. The Polaris Project is a coordinated treatment and supervision program intended to promote effective treatment as an alternative to incarceration. Through frequent judicial interaction and intervention, the Program assists defendants in recognizing, taking control, managing and being accountable for their mental illness.

The Polaris Project is a cooperative effort between the Stark Mental Health & Addiction Recovery Board, Stark County TASC and the Canton Municipal Court.

During 2023, twenty-six new participants entered the Polaris Project and 11 participants successfully completed the program.

Diagnosis

- Bipolar Spectrum Disorders
- Depression or Anxiety Spectrum Disorders
- Schizophrenia or Related Disorder

- 11 individuals successfully completed the Polaris Program in 2023. Had they not been admitted to the Program and served their jail sentence, they could have served in excess of 2,000 days in jail.
- 64% of those successfully completing the Program have maintained their recovery and not re-entered the criminal justice system one year post completion.
- Of those admitted to the Polaris Program, each averaged 5 prior arrests.
- 60% of participants had a history of substance abuse and/or dependency

Recovery Court

The Canton Municipal Court, Recovery Court is a voluntary program intended to promote appropriate and effective treatment of substance use disorder, including the use of medically assisted recovery (MAR) when clinically indicated, as an alternative to incarceration for a person whose history of treatment non-compliance, and/or refusal to accept treatment, results in a recurring pattern of criminal offenses. The Program requires court and treatment provider involvement in treatment planning and compliance, which should result in more effective utilization of other court and system resources.

The Program will provide a non-adversarial, comprehensive, coordinated approach to the criminal cases of selected defendants with a history of substance use disorder in order to decrease criminal recidivism, improve public safety and improve the defendant's quality of life by stabilizing the defendant in the least restrictive environment. The Recovery Court is a voluntary hybrid program whereas participants can enter as a condition of Intervention in lieu of Conviction, pursuant to Ohio Revised Code, Section 2951.041 or via referral post-conviction as a condition of probation. The duration of the Recovery Court program varies based upon a participant's program performance and compliance with the conditions of participation, but generally twelve months.

The Honorable Curt Werren presides over the Canton Municipal Recovery Court. The Recovery Court commenced operations in March of 2017 and achieved certification from the Supreme Court of Ohio in August 2017. In addition to a full continuum of treatment services, the Recovery Court provides case management and peer support to all those engaged in the Program.

During 2023, Thirty-nine defendants were accepted into the Recovery Court Docket. Twelve defendants graduated from the program during 2023, Six felony diversion cases and 6 misdemeanor cases. To date, 45% of the Recovery Court participants are/or have been engaged in Medically Assisted Recovery (MAT).

The Recovery Court is a collaborative initiative between the Stark Mental Health & Addiction Recovery Board, CommQuest and the Canton Municipal Court.

Court Security

The Bailiff's Office is composed of three separate divisions; Judicial Bailiff division, Service Bailiff division and Court Security division.

The Judicial Bailiffs serve as personal Bailiff to each of the Court's four Judges. Responsibilities of the Judicial Bailiffs include maintaining security in the courtroom, the orderly flow of cases on the daily docket, completion of required case documentation, swearing in witnesses, handling and marking exhibits, and the operation of the court recording devices.

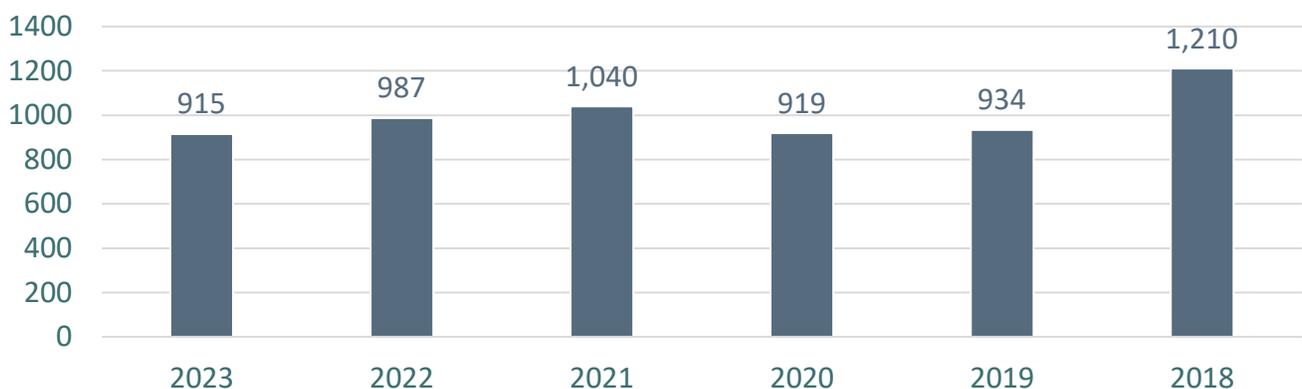

Court Security Bailiffs Brittany Newhouse, Scott Butterfield, Tony DiMauro and Dennis Evans

In addition to operating the X-ray screening device and magnetometer, the Court Security Bailiffs screen and search all visitors to the Court and City Hall, respond to security situations within the Court, assist in escorting prisoners, and taking offenders into custody.

Each of the Court Security Bailiffs have completed the Bailiff Training Academy at the Ohio Peace Officer Training Academy in London, Ohio and have been trained and certified in unarmed-self defense tactics, firearms, first-aid, CPR, use and deployment of oleoresin capsicum (OC) spray, as well as emergency procedures and critical incident management.

Court Security Bailiffs are also responsible for conducting the booking process on defendants appearing in Court. This process entails the Security Bailiff fingerprinting defendants on an automated fingerprint identification system and transmitting the prints and other vital arrest information to the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification at the Ohio Attorney General's Office. During 2023, the Court Security Bailiff's booked 915 defendants.

Defendants Booked in 2023

Bailiffs Office

Court Deputy Bailiffs also provide vital and statutory services for the Court and the local criminal justice system. These official notices are served not only on behalf of the Court, but also for the City of Canton Law Department and Prosecutor’s Office. During 2023, the Deputy Bailiffs served 31,423 subpoenas, summons, and other related court notices.

Deputy Bailiffs Denise Squire, Gino Millin, Jamey Sanders, Doug Gauze, Walter Campbell, Chief Bailiff Lindsay Trent, Deputy Bailiff Jim Cole

The Deputy Service Bailiffs are also responsible for the oversight and supervision of all evictions within the Court jurisdiction. Community Sanctions Department

The Canton Municipal Court Community Sanctions Department operates under the philosophy that offenders performing volunteer work service within their community not only serves to repay a wrong or debt to the community, but allows the offender to have a personal investment in the end product of a better community.

Community Service offers the Judges of the Court a community-based sanction alternative to a jail sentence for non-violent and first time offenders.

*Community Sanctions Officer Brad Ohman
Community Sanctions Coordinator Joel Simpson and Community Sanctions Officer Susan Cabot*

*Community Service Supervisor
Patrick Allen*

The Community Sanctions Department has developed relationships and inter-agency agreements with several dozen charitable and non-profit organizations throughout Stark County, as well as working relationships with various City Departments. The role of the Community Service Department is to screen and place offenders sentenced to community service into these sites to perform volunteer community work service. Offenders are supervised by Court Community Sanctions Supervisors or individual agency personnel or a combination of both while performing community work service.

During 2023, 909 offenders were sentenced to 37,434 hours of supervised Community Work Service and completed 32,290 hours or 86% of the hours sentenced. If not for the Community Work Service Program and had those 909 offenders been sentenced to jail, they would have accounted for a total of 71,997 jail bed days. Based on the number of community service hours completed by offenders in 2023 when translated in terms of labor at minimum wage it represents a total of $326,129 of labor services provided to these agencies.

Community Sanctions Department

The Community Service Department also operates its own Road Crew. Offenders sentenced to the Road Crew are directly supervised by the Community Sanctions Supervisors weekdays from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm. While assigned to Road Crew, offenders perform litter control and other basic labor services, as well as lawn maintenance and snow removal at various City properties and for the elderly and disabled within the Court’s jurisdiction.

Each of the Community Service Road Crew Supervisors operates a 10 passenger van and equipment trailer that serves as their own self-contained, clean-up and maintenance shop. The Road Crew Supervisors work off of a daily schedule of lawn mowing, snow removal and clean-ups for the City of Canton Code Enforcement and Health Department at locations in the community cited for Code Violations. The Road Crew Staff supervises up to 10 offenders each for two 4 hour shifts daily.

The Community Sanctions Officers also serve as a liaison between the Court and community treatment agencies. The Community Sanctions Officers monitor defendants' compliance with court-ordered treatment obligations for mental health, drug/alcohol issues as a part of their sentence. The Community Sanctions Officers maintain contact with the defendant and the community treatment agencies through the completion of the treatment obligation. During 2023 the Community Sanctions Officers monitored 724 defendants involved in court-ordered counseling obligations.

Pretrial Services Office

The mission of the Canton Municipal Pretrial Services Office is to provide the Judges of the Court with a risk-based recommendation for pretrial release or detention for defendants appearing for arraignment; provide risk-based supervision for those released from custody pending trial and implement strategies to maximize court appearance and maximize public safety.

The Municipal Pretrial Services Office partnered with the Laura & John Arnold Foundation for professional training and implementation of the Public Safety Assessment (PSA). The PSA is a nationally recognized, validated, race and gender neutral pretrial risk assessment that utilizes defendant risk factors to accurately predict a defendant's likeliness to appear for court; likeliness to commit a new offense while under pretrial supervision as well as the proclivity of committing a new violent offense while under supervision while awaiting trial. While the PSA is not a crystal ball that provides 100% certainty of these behaviors, it does provide the Judges of the Court another tool in making the decision to release or detain a defendant while awaiting trial.

Upon the determination that a defendant may be released from custody while awaiting trial, the Municipal Pretrial Services Office actively supervises defendants while in the community based upon the level of risk the defendant presents. The Municipal Pretrial Services Office utilizes an array of available technologies in supervising defendants, including automated text and email notifications, electronically-monitored house arrest; 24 hour subcutaneous alcohol monitoring; active global positioning satellite (GPS) monitoring with exclusion zones as well as requiring in person office visits and phone call ins.

Pretrial Services Office

Court and jail data for the Municipal Pretrial Services Office operation demonstrates the Municipal Pretrial Office has effectively achieved all of the outcome measures prescribed by the grant-funding authority. The Pretrial Office has reduced the Failure to Appear rate by 50%; reduced the average number of defendants being held prior to trial by 53% and reduced the average number of days defendants were held by 36%.

Jury Service

A significant portion of the cases heard by the Court each year have the potential to be decided by a jury trial.

In preparation for that potential, the Jury Coordinator is charged with securing, scheduling, and coordinating an ample jury pool. The Jury Coordinator obtains a random sample of registered voters that reside within the Court’s jurisdiction from the Stark County Board of Elections each quarter in order to adequately schedule for Jury Duty. The Jury Coordinator then prepares a Summons for the prospective juror to be “on-call” for one week

In order to further simplify the process of reporting for jury duty, the Court leveraged existing technology and offers email and text notifications for jury duty.

The Court sincerely appreciates the juror’s appearance for this civic obligation and without their commitment and participation in the process, the justice system as we know could not exist.

The Canton Municipal Court

Congratulations Judge Poulos

"...I always tell people that across this great country of ours, there are many judges that graduated from Harvard. There's only one that graduated from Hartford..."

Canton Municipal Judge John A. Poulos

After more than 40 years of dedicated public service, thirty of which as Judge of the Canton Municipal Court, the Honorable John A. Poulos hung up his robe for the final time on December 29, 2023.

On behalf of his fellow Judges, Court staff and countless constituents that he has helped during his career, we wish Judge Poulos the very best in retirement.
